Bradford Commercial assists client KT&G in securing 72,800 sf office suite in Fort Worth, Texas.

The world's fifth largest tobacco company, KT&G USA Corp, chose to relocate their US headquarters and distribution center to North Fort Worth, Texas. There were several driving factors in the leasing decision including the need for Foreign Trade Zone designated properties. "We chose Bradford Companies to represent us in our D/FW area search due to their localized expertise. In addition, with the need for FTZ, we felt that that the organizations unique developmental, and leasing knowledge of specific foreign trade zoning provided a unique level of expertise. We knew that local expertise and experience would be vital in our relocation efforts. Nick was able to quickly narrow our search down to buildings that fit our needs. He did a great job in managing the lease process and even helping out after the lease had been signed and completed. I would absolutely recommend Nick Talley and Bradford Commercial with your real estate relocation needs."
